

Brian B Heir

September 24, 1959 - August 27, 2015

Words cannot express the huge void left in our souls and hearts and it is only the memories now that are flooding in to Celebrate Brian and embrace how he lived.

All those that were touched by Brian's infectious smile, wild sense of humor, complete compassion and loving care, great looks (Brian would of surely added that one) know immediately that he had a child like adventurous spirit that some of us had let go throughout the years. He would bring it back in all of us at moments, with a story, and followed by our laughter that would fix everything.

His keen insight to how things worked whether it was a motorcycle parts, cell phones, guitar chords or feelings, brought about long discussions lasting into the wee hours of the night with me, and sometimes any one of his friends who would be up to listen. His achievements were fueled by seeking out new challenges, i.e. Studying for the impossible Series 7 exam – “Brian style”, at the beach.

Brian spoke freely-we listened, he wrote captivating stories -we read them all, Brian told lengthy Jokes (The Pirate) just like his dad Kal and we laughed and never forgot...

Being a father, opened up for Brian a passion for teaching, playing, protecting, and from the beginning Brian and Tori were “Two Peas in a Pod”. From Ice skating, roller blading, snowboarding, watching scary movies, getting late night snacks at the local gas station (don't tell mommy,) they also both had frequent favorite dinners of Filet Mignon and Lobster, followed by a Milky Way or Reese's cups.

Brian embraced life with a passion, played professional trumpet, guitar, and harmonica, and sang beautifully. He loved cycling through the hills of New Jersey and surfing on cold winter days at the shore. His favorite was a skiing, and finding long trails fading in the late afternoon sun the last runs of the day were the best.

In business when things got out of hand he was able to assemble a team and move everyone to another company. He collected lifelong friends easily.

Being with Brian for over 20 years I was enlightened and touched by his sweet soul: we learned from each other as we grew and I truly feel privileged to have been his love, his wife, his friend, and a part of his world. Brian is also survived by his sister Marilyn, his brother Jeff, along with Uncles, Aunts and many cousins who simply call him their favorite uncle.

Brian's Soul is at Peace now with Kal and Rosemond his Mom and Dad, and we know that Brian would of wanted the felling of peace reflected back onto all of us here in this world.

We forever love you.

“ Losing him so young broke his beautiful daughter with so much potentials heats so much, she was never the same. She was in pain. Now she Rests in Peace too. His young daughter died last month too. So Tragic. Since I honestly believe she was never the same after she lost her father. Now she died way too young. Im still in shock.

I pray they are with God now in Heaven in Peace.

I knew Brian from his early days in his hometown of Paramus N.J. We became good friends as we both played in 'The Tangles' a great local Rock Band from the 80's..Brian wrote so many great tunes and was an excellent all around musician.But I remember most, the great times Ronnie, Diane and myself Mike had with Brian during those special days... He made you laugh, and he was the type of person you wanted to be around..My heartfelt condolences go out to all his 'family and friends'...Brian you will be missed Brother..With much 'Love & May God Bless your Memory', Mica'

“ Many facets of Brian's personality flash through my mind since I knew him as a adolescent and teenager. He was always very lively and upbeat,clever and fun to be around. A knowledgeable guy who was very comedic at times. Have many fond memories of Brian and I know I will miss him as I am sure so many people will. My condolences to Liz and Tori, and to my friend, Marilyn, Brian's sister and her husband, Peter. With heartfelt sympathy, Ellen

*So sad to now hear that his beautiful daughter Tori passed a month ago. So tragic.
At least they can be together again in Heaven.*

“ Unca, I can't believe you are really gone. I remember being little and coming for visits. All the fun I had during my childhood were my visits to Florida. As I grew up you were always a father figure to me and when I reached adulthood you turned into a friend. You've always supported me and been proud of me and that meant more than you know. The last time we visited was at Hooters, I still have my Delray Beach t-shirt from there, I'll have to go enjoy some wings and women and have a beer in your honor after Brady is born. I wish he could have met the hilarious, intelligent, wise beyond his years Unca I knew but I'll be sure to tell him all about you. Loving you always, your favorite Kabec!

“ Brian was a very close friend of mine ... We were in many bands together and we became instantly close both musically and spiritually. We were songwriting partners and together with our small circle of friends Mike / Diane / Doreen and Karen (RIP) we shared many fun and creative moments.. Brian was a master of words and always had the correct phrase at the most critical moment to let you know that he was both intelligent and a comic at the same time. He was a super talented guy and was instantly great at anything he touched: guitar / trumpet / skiing / surfing / biking etc. He had a certain charm about him that was contagious ... He could light up any room ... He was instantly likable ... His wit and humor sometimes brought me to laugh so hard my eyes would tear. I learned many things from him ... About music and life ... Things and theories i will never forget. He taught me how to write a great "power pop" song and he wrote many great ones himself. I will miss him and the world has lost a great spokesman and spiritual soul. Rest in peace my friend ... Peace to your beautiful family ... Ronnie & Celeste Ebert

“ My mom and Brian's mom were sisters and when Brian was born they lived on the next street over in Emerson, N.J. I was a teenager and almost on my way to college, but that summer before, I spent every moment I could with my aunt Rosamond and Brian. Brian was a "surprise" baby and always the center of attention whenever the family got together. I remember his as a beautiful little boy, a little rascal, but very funny, and very loved. As adults we didn't see or talk to each other often, but when we did, he still had that Brian charm, humor and warmth. I will miss you Brian.

“ My earliest memory of Brian was when he was about 2 years old. I would go to his house in Emerson and he would be running around with a pacifier pinned to his shirt. He was always a talker taking after his Dad. He relocated to Florida to be near his aging parents and was always there for them. When ever I would talk with Kal he would never miss an opportunity to talk about Brian and how proud of him he was. He was a good son. Rest in peace.
