

Leah Yoskowitz

May 27, 1925 - December 8, 2016

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

“ Leah Yoskowitz

---

January 29, 2023 at 12:14 PM

BY

“ I am deeply saddened over the passing of my dear Aunt Lee, a truly wonderful and kind woman, who had a remarkable memory, and who I will miss so very much. She was a pillar of strength, compassion, warmth and understanding to all that she knew, and especially to her family. She was blessed with a long and healthy, happy life, and she will be together with her husband, my Uncle Leo, whom she was married to for 65 wonderful years. I remember Aunt Lee's kindness to me, her nephew, who spent the better part of two summers visiting her family in Brooklyn; and she and Uncle Leo graciously let me stay with them. I was so excited to not only be in New York, but to spend time with them, and my cousins, Anita, Sherry and Neil. Her patience and hospitality impressed me greatly. She cooked and cleaned for her children...and me....that was four. I remember those times with fondest memories. She and Uncle Leo flew down to Florida to be at my Bar Mitzvah, and I was very happy they were there; our family being small, it meant a lot to me. In later years, when my father was in an assisted-living facility, and suffered from memory loss, Aunt Lee made it a point to visit him on his birthday, a few years in a row, and I am grateful for her kindness and compassion for that. Her memory and awareness right up until her 90's amazed me. She was blessed with that. I wish I had been able to spend more time with her, as I have a lot of questions concerning our family, and things from the past, that I am certain Aunt Lee would have either remembered, or would have spoken at length about, always amazing me. I am so happy that she and Uncle Leo were able to enjoy their later years, having moved to Florida in 1992 or 1993. My deepest condolences and prayers to my cousins, Anita, Sherry and Neil and their families; to her brother George and his family, and to all whose lives she touched, we were lucky to have had such a wonderful person in our lives. Love and blessings to you always, Aunt Lee.

---

Bruce York - December 09, 2016 at 10:01 PM